SnackstalkerInstagram Pop-Tarts is an amazing way of whipping out flavors you didn't even know you needed (remember Strawberry Milkshake?). Now, they're here to drop another flavor that's a complete blow to your mind: Froot Loop Pop-Tarts is a thing. They were spotted at Walmart by the Instagram account @Snackstalker and there are photographic evidence. The best holiday gift is here! Froot loop flavored with pop-tarts! Can't wait to try them out, they wrote in the caption. This content is imported from Instagram. You might find the same content in a different format or find more information on your website. Obviously some people have actually got their hands on them before because there were actually some reviews of the comments. They were good! They tasted just like Froot Loops, wrote one person. Someone else pointed out that these Pop-Tarts come in a larger pack of 16 toasters per box of pastry, and that's promising. Why do they have to make a big box though? They're sure they won't suck, they said. Pop-Tarts don't have a new flavor listed as part of its official lineup, and some people noted on Instagram that this flavor sells out in certain places. It's also not available Walmart.com (though you can still score the special Halloween flavors of Matted Pumpkin Pie and Roasted Chocolate Fudge there, so there's that). So if you happen to notice them in the wild, then you want to fill your cart with as many boxes as humanly possible. This content is imported from {embed-name}.
